

Last name, First name	E-Mail	Institutional affiliation	Postal address	Research profile
Hauschild, Christiane	chausch@hotmail.com ,	Member of the Interdisciplinary Center for Narratology (ICN), Univ. Hamburg	Christiane Hauschild, Rothenbaum- chaussee 61, 20148 Hamburg, Germany. Av. Araújo Pinho, 167, Ed. Monte Belo, ap.103, CEP 40110 150 Salvador da Bahia, Brasil	M.A., Dr. phil. in Slavic Literatures, Philosophy (Univ. Goettingen, 2001) My Dissertation was awarded publishing by th Freie Universitaet Berlin (FU Berlin): "Haeretische Transgressionen. Das Maerchenpoem "Mólodec" von Marina Cvetaeva". Wallstein Verlag, 2004. From 2000-2004 I have been working at the „ Encyclopedia of the Fairy-Tale “ (Akademie der Wissenschaften Goettingen) (www.gwdg.de/~enzmaer) and, simultaneously, specializing in Comparative and Historical Folklore Studies at the Institute of Cultural Anthropology, Univ. of Goettingen. In 2004 I joined the ICN Hamburg and contributed as a member of the former FGN´s project on Slavic Narratology (Wolf Schmid) and as co-author to the project NarrNetz (Jan Christoph Meister) (see www.icn.uni-hamburg.de/NarrNetz), Since 2009, I am living in Salvador da Bahia, Brasil /

				Hamburg as Independent Researcher and freelance writer. Teaching experience: Comparative Literature (focus on Modernism), Introduction to Gender Studies, Literary Theory. Current research topics: Northeastern Brazilian musical and oral traditions, Narration in New Media and Games.
--	--	--	--	--